

Scenarios

- A international student who is studying in UNCC and cares about the election results because the new president's policy may affect the F1 VISA
- A middle class businessman cares about candidates' policies for next four years, so he want to learn more about the election and the policies in the future
- A lower class man who wants to learn more about the tax policies and the social welfare in the future, so he cares about the result of election

User stories

- As an international student, I would like to learn more about the policies from each candidate.
- As a middle class businessman, I would like to know that I would benefit from which candidate's policies
- As an lower class man, I would like to learn more about how the policies would changes in the future after election

Feature list

- Compare and contrast the candidates' policies influence on society
- Listing policies and promises from both candidates
- Listing group of people benefits from each candidates
- Analyzing and estimating the win rate of each candidate

